As the city of 'nawabs' gears up to host Prime Minister Narendra Modi for the country's main Yoga Day event, a group of school students from Lucknow are practising to perform various asanas at the UN headquarters in New York.

A 72-member team of City Montessori School (CMS), Lucknow, will leave for the US on Monday for a live performance at the United Nations Headquarters on June 21.

On May 19, they staged a special performance before Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath. "We have trained 72 students from different classes to perform at the mega event on Yoga day at UN. It will also be attended by UN Secretary General Ant Guterres," CMS founder Jagadish Gandhi said.
